

N.B. These training opportunities represent a menu of courses for NQTs and their Induction Tutors to decide which represent the most useful for the needs of the individual NQT and to book accordingly. They are not all compulsory courses for each NQT/ I.T. to attend.

Also, due to the uncertainty surrounding Covid 19, we do not know if it will be possible to host face-to-face training sessions due to social distancing guidance. Consequently, we have decided to arrange remote sessions for the end of this term and during the Autumn term, with invites sent out electronically. This will be reviewed as Government guidance evolves but it should mean that more time can be spent in the classroom in the crucial first term of induction. We will re-assess things as the situation develops during the Autumn term and contact you regarding arrangements for face-to-face training as, and when, the guidance changes.

NQT Core Induction Day 1

We will look at your role in the Induction process, meeting the Teachers' Standards and the support available to you. Also, one of last year's NQTs will offer their advice about getting the most from your Induction year.

NQTs need only attend one of the dates below (N.B. January date is for late starters)

Early Years Support Sessions for NQTs

These sessions are essential for all NQTs working in early years and teachers that are new to early years. The sessions will focus on planning and assessment. There will also be moderation activity and discussion on how to collate evidence towards judgements. There will be opportunity to form a support network with colleagues; sharing experiences, difficulties and successes. Please bring with you a child's learning record to aid discussion on how you plan to capture evidence of children's progress.

NQT Annual Conference and Celebration events

a). NQT Summer Conference – Next steps?

In partnership with the Inspirit Teaching School and the University of Bedfordshire, this annual conference will look at moving beyond your NQT year and will enable you to meet past NQTs from local schools and to look at taking on additional responsibilities in different areas of education. This event is designed to be for NQTs only (not Induction Tutors – see below).

COURSE CODE	COURSE INFORMATION
NQT070721a	Wednesday 7 th July 2021	13:00 - 16:00	University of Bedfordshire, Gateway Building

b). NQT Celebration Event

This annual event is hosted by the University of Bedfordshire and is an opportunity to enjoy and celebrate the completion of the induction year with all the other NQTs. This event will follow on from the Conference and it is hoped that as many NQTs and their Induction Tutors will come along to celebrate the completion of the induction period.
